WORK IN CONGRESS.
Synopsis of the Proceedings for the Past Week.
WASHINGTON, CITY, April 4.—The senate yesterday adopted a motion by Edmunds that an adjournment be taken to Saturday, to-day being Good Friday. Ingalls was selected to act as president pro tem in the counting absence of Vice President Morton. Blair introduced a bill providing that the lowest wages paid by the government be $2 per day. The bill for a $75,000 public building at Aurora, Ill., was passed. A discussion of the house bill to take a census of the Chinese was had and the bill went over. The senate held a secret session and at 5:40 adjourned to Saturday.

In the house the reading of a petition of the New England Shoe and Leather association against the duty on hides was applauded by the Democrats. The senate bill to enable the treasury to investigate the fur seal industry was passed, and the concurrent resolution requesting the president to propose arbitration in all questions with foreign nations which cannot be settled by diplomacy. A bill was passed providing that the president shall fix a limit of punishment for military offenses in time of peace. Lawler introduced a bill to establish 100 schools in different parts of the country to teach bad spelling—otherwise the phonetic system. The Idaho admission bill was then debated, Republicans for Democrats against, and finally passed—yeas, 129; nays, 1—The Democrats not voting, and the speaker counting a quorum. The house then adjourned.

WASHINGTON, CITY, April 5.—Yesterday the house passed five private pension bills and then went into committee on the private calendar, but accomplished nothing. At 5 p. m. recess was taken to 8, at which time private pension bills were again taken up and thirty passed. At 10:30 the house adjourned. Among the bills introduced was one providing for the election of United States senators by the people. About a dozen such bills have been introduced this session.

WASHINGTON, CITY, April 7.—Congress did a big day's work Saturday in the way of pension bills, the senate passing 113 private pension bills in one hour. Among the other bills were the following: Providing for the vitiation of town-site claims in Oklahoma when the claimant "boomed" himself into the territory too soon; appropriating $500,000 for a national museum building; providing for the inspection of meats exported and food and drink imported; giving preference to veterans in the civil service; for an assistant general superintendent and chief clerk of the railway mail service at salaries of $3,000 and $2,000 respectively; giving the widow of Senator Baker, of Oregon, who was killed by a ball's snuff, a pension of $50 per month, and the widow of Gen. Hartranft $100 per month. Bills were introduced: To establish a department of banking for the people; to include in the act to restore pensions in certain cases "all officers and soldiers in the army or their widows and children; providing for arbitration between railway companies and their employees; limiting the total amount of land to be held by any citizen or corporation to 320 acres of arable land and 640 of any other kind.

The house passed bills amending the articles of war in the direction of more care in trying the accused in time of peace; providing for the retention of $4 per month of the first year's pay of enlisted men, and that they may purchase their discharge; increasing to eleven the board of managers of soldiers' homes; and appointing thereon John C. Black, of Illinois, and George W. Steele, of Indiana; giving preference in presidential appointments from civil life to the army to West Point graduates, National guardsmen, or graduates of military institutes; providing for an immigrant station on Ellis island, New York harbor; for a public building at Aurora, Ill.—$75,000. After listening to eulogies on the late Representative Nutting, of New York, the house adjourned.

WASHINGTON, CITY, April 8.—Bills were reported favorably to the senate yesterday: Appropriating $50,000 for a statue to Gen. Starke, at Manchester, N. H.; to reimburse Washington and South Dakota for the expenses of constitutional conventions. (The expenses were largely cut down from the claims). Appropriating $100,000 for a public building at Grand Haven, Mich. Bills were introduced: Appropriating $700,000 for the improvement of the Missouri river and $1,750,000 to complete the Mobile harbor. Protests of the New York chamber of commerce and the American Missionary society against the proposed enumeration of the Chinese were presented. The Montana senatorship was then taken up, but without action an executive session was held and the senate adjourned.

Bills were introduced in the house: To prevent cruelty to domestic animals, and granting a service pension to veterans. Morrill of Kansas moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill for dependent pensions. This was antagonized by the Democrats, on the ground that it was too important a bill to pass in such a manner. The motion failed—109 yeas, 87 nays—not the necessary two-thirds. In committee the naval appropriation was considered without action, and the house adjourned.

WASHINGTON, CITY, April 9.—Call introduced in the senate yesterday a resolution calling for an investigation of the charges against Judge Swayne and Attorney Stripling, of the northern Florida district, that they administer the affairs of their offices in a partisan spirit. The resolution went over. The anti-trust bill was then taken up and passed, as was the bill to admit free duty articles from Mexico for the St. Louis exposition, amended to include the whole of South America and Canada. The Montana senatorship case was resumed, but while Pugh was speaking it was noted that but two Republicans were in their seats and the matter was laid aside. The senate then adjourned. The vote on the anti-trust bill was 52 to 1—Blodgett.

The house passed bills for the relief of persons settling on Northern Pacific indemnity lands, restoring to the public domain land set apart at the headwaters of the Mississippi, Wisconsin and other rivers for reservoir purposes, granting right-of-way through Indian reservations in Wisconsin to the Duluth and Winnipeg railway, and to prevent the enlistment of aliens in the United States navy. The motion to reconsider the vote on the proposition that the government make good the stealings of Blodgett was then called up, the motion carried and the bill passed. (The court of claims decided that the government is responsible.) In committee the house then took up the naval appropriation, but without completing the bill the committee rose, and the house adjourned.

No Repeat of Prohibition in Iowa.
DES MOINES, Ia., April 7.—The lower house of the legislature disposed of the question of repeal of the prohibition law for at least two years Saturday by defeating the Democratic local option bill. This result was accomplished by the vote of Ewart, the Union Labor member, who voted with the Republicans, giving them 51 votes.

NEWS OF THE STATE
A heavy pair of buntings one has recently been discovered near Negaunee. Lansing is to have a $25,000 sanitarium, located by a stock company composed of local physicians.
Jackson folks describe Nellie Bly's lecture in that city as a commonplace description of her flying trip around the globe.
Jackson ladies should be of the stay-at-home class. A company has just been organized for the erection of the fifth corner factory in that city.
A couple of Horsey brothers quarreled over a house that appeared on a table near where they were sitting, each claiming it belonged to the other, when one of them suddenly whipped out a dirk and stabbed the other, inflicting a fatal wound.
Of the 138 applicants for teachers' credentials in Sanilac county, forty-eight were successful. A little closer attention to the studies they desire to teach might result in better results in capturing the coveted certificates.
Those people who have declared that the upper peninsula produces nothing but lumber, ore and bandida, seemed to have recoiled within their host. The potato crop in the vicinity of Marquette has become so heavy of late years that there's talk of establishing a factory to extract some of the starch from it.
A Hudson man, who has been in the habit of carrying considerable loose change around in his trousers' pockets, was assaulted by an unknown robber while at the barn attending to his chores. On this particular occasion, however, his pockets were empty, and the assaulter fled minus the coveted cash.
It is not an infrequent occurrence for the wife to notify vendors of intoxicants to desist from furnishing the head of the family with strong drink, but a Whitehall citizen has been compelled to do that very thing for his wife.
Even foreigners succumb to the American way of doing things. A Swede has been arrested in Detroit for marrying his fourth or fifth wife. As he is but 31 years of age, he might have made a genuine American record had he not encountered legal interference.
The county secretaries of school examiners congregated at Lansing, and resolved upon a plan for grading country schools, similar to that adopted by the school boards of cities and villages.
The members of a Cossack church could not worship peacefully together, and so they agreed to disagree by a majority of them seceding and hiring a hall of their own.
Michigan's legislature stamped out the oleomargarine factories of the state a few years since at an expense of more than $21,000, but that doesn't prevent the authorities at the Jackson prison from importing the stuff from Chicago with which to feed the boarders at that institution.
A Kent county citizen had such a deuce of a time trying to live with his wife that he tried the divorce remedy. Did that end his matrimonial experiences? Within an hour from the time he had secured the credentials of separation, he had obtained a license to marry another maiden. If at first you don't succeed, etc.

The widow of Philip Gomerling, the C. and W. M., brakeman killed at Benton Harbor last fall, has accepted $500 from the company in full of her claim. Common folks come cheap in this work-a-day world.
It is said that 2,500 Illinois people never go to church, while a large number only go once in a great while—when there are some extra doings to attend to. And yet the modern church building is a hundred fold more comfortable than those in which our forefathers used to worship with the greatest regularity.
The owners of the Gold Lake mine at Ishpeming are lots of stuff ahead, as the ore is turning out $30 to the ton.
A lot of Lapeer ladies have formed a World's Fair club, and are laying aside 15 cents each per week, with which to have a jubilee at the big show.
Escanaba's new ore dock is nearly ready for business. More than 1,000 piles and 1,000,000 feet of lumber and timber were used in its construction.
Orrin Starr, a Kalamazoo lad of 81 frosty winters, split and piled twelve cords of wood in one week, just to show the boys what a well preserved youth of that age is capable of doing.
The country roads in many sections of the state have been very much in the same condition this spring that they were years and years ago when the country was new. A Harry county farmer spent two days in making the round trip to a grist mill, seven miles away, with four bushels of wheat. And he had a spanking good team, too.
The demand from other states for Michigan parsons is being partially offset by the same tactics—the inducement of a bigger salary. The Grand Rapids Baptist church has "called" Rev. J. L. Jackson, of Bloomington, Ill., $3,000 worth.
An Iowa boy was expelled from school for truancy, and this made him feel so badly that he stole a quantity of school books just to get even. Then the authorities gently laid their hands on his anatomy and banished him for thirty days.
An Owosso child was horribly burned by accidentally tipping over a bottle of carbolic acid. A little precaution would avoid the possibility of such an accident.
The plaintiff in a civil suit filed in the court of a Detroit justice of the peace, just as the case was called for trial. Such results don't always come so speedily, but it's always safer to give the lawsuit industry a wide berth, if you can.

Wild cats that measure a plump four feet in length are the latest novelty in Kent county. Such varmints were plenty enough in pioneer days, but are quite a curiosity to the present generation.
A tramp fired a lot of stones at the home of a Whitmore Lake family because they refused to grant his request for lodgings, but the thing became monotonous after a time and a 15-year-old boy gave him a full dose of buckshot in return. It will be some days before the tourist will be in shape to stone another home.
The body of John Johnson, the Muskegon man who disappeared last December, was found the past week in Muskegon lake. The circumstances all point to accidental drowning.
There's a chance for some pedagogue's getting a job at Lansing, as Prof. Howell declines to longer engineer the public schools of the Capital City. However, the chance may be a slim one, as there are several dozen applications already on file.
A Littlefield schoolman was discharged by the school board two years ago, before her contract had expired, but she sued the district and made it cost 'em several hundred dollars for not doing as they'd agreed.
A Canadian syndicate is considering the advisability of purchasing a large tract of Ogemaw county fruit lands, divide it up into twenty to forty acre tracts, and give a lot people the opportunity of enjoying life at the same time they are gaining a livelihood by raising peaches and cream.

The Detroit Electric Light company recognizes the hazards run by their employees of a sudden termination of their earthly existence, and so have placed a $5,000 life insurance policy on each as a protection to their families in case of accident.
Homer Miller, a Rosetown citizen, gave his cow a pail of water and leaned over to see if it had been drunk just in time to have a horn thrust through his cheek, as the animal suddenly raised her head.
W. E. Reid, Grand Rapids' somewhat noted "spirit postmaster," has been convicted of fraudulently using Uncle Sam's mails. It required but four minutes for the jury to reach a verdict.
A Michigan Appointment.
LANSING, Mich., April 7.—Governor Luce has appointed Edward Cahill, of Lansing, and a member of the state advisory board, to succeed the late Judge Campbell on the supreme bench. Cahill was born in Kalamazoo and is 47 years old.
His Neck Broken by a Rock.
Houghton, Mich., April 8.—William J. Taby, aged 29, underground captain at the Huron mine, was killed Sunday night in the mine by a rock which fell on him, breaking his neck. He leaves three young children.

BLOODY FIGHT IN NEW YORK.
A Quarrel Over the "Growler" Results in Play with Knife and Bludgeon.
NEW YORK, April 7.—During a quarrel at 55 Cherry street, caused by some of the occupants of the tenement refusing to contribute money for "the growler," which was being "rushed" by two notorious characters named Curtin, several persons were stabbed, and one, John Sloan, an old longshoreman, will probably die from his injuries. The Curtins had made a general attack on the tenants, and Sloan, with a club, tried to drive them away. They wrestled his club from him, and beat him terribly, and also stabbed him with a pen-knife. James Lawton, Sloan's son-in-law was stabbed nine times, while trying to defend the old man. Mrs. Sloan and Mary Driscoll were slightly stabbed. The Curtin brothers were captured by officers after a long chase over the roofs. Sloan is thought to be dying at the hospital, and Lawton is very low.

Killing Snakes with Dynamite.
BOSTON, Mass., April 8.—George Creyburn, while at work in the woods at Essex falls, started a huge black-snake, which measured six feet in length. The reptile rapidly sped toward its hole, but was killed before reaching it. Creyburn poked from the hole snake after snake until forty-seven were counted on the ground. Obtaining a charge of dynamite he placed it in the hole and discharged it. There was a great shatter of rock and turf, and it literally rained snakes, upward of fifty being sent high in the air. Mr. Creyburn is an old veteran snake-hunter from the far west, but says this is the largest batch of snakes he ever struck.

Buried the Hatchet.
HARLAN COURT HOUSE, Ky., April 8.—The Howard-Turner feud, that has made the name of Harlan county a synonym for lawlessness and has caused oceans of blood to flow, has come to an end. The Spurlows, Days and others, representing both the Howard and Turner factions, held a powwow, and both sides agreed to suspend hostilities and forever bury the hatchet. It was also mutually agreed that should any more "bushwhacking" take place both sides would turn out and hunt the assassin down.

More Outrages in Crete.
CANDIA, Crete, April 7.—Christian churches have been pillaged and Christian residents insulted by Turkish soldiers in the province of Candia. Acting on the intervention of the foreign diplomatic representatives, the governor, Chakir Pasha, has ordered a mixed commission to investigate the outrages. The commission thus appointed will report on the extent of the injuries and abuses complained of, and the Turks will be obliged to compensate their victims for their losses.

European Workmen Organizing.
GENEVA, April 8.—At a meeting held at Oiteu at which there were present 247 delegates, representing 120,000 workmen, resolutions were adopted providing for the formation of trades unions, associations for the aid of the sick and a system of insurance against accident. Resolutions were also adopted calling for certain amendments to the factory laws now existing which will tend to make them more favorable to the laboring classes.

Sale of Twenty-three Race Horses.
NEW YORK, April 8.—Twenty-three race horses, the property of William McMahon and Edward Garrison, the jockey, were sold at auction at the Boulevard Riding academy Monday. The first twelve sold for $19,175, an average of $1,598. Eolian brought $3,400; Speedwell, $2,500; Falcon, $3,450; Garrison, $3,000; Veve, $1,500; and John Atwood, $1,625.

Was on an Errand of Mercy.
FORT DODGE, Iowa, April 8.—James Coleman, a farmer, living near this city, was arrested for fast driving. After his arrest it was discovered that he had been hastening to town to get a physician for his dying wife, and he was released. When he arrived home his wife was dead.

Death of a Prominent Mason.
ALBANY, N. Y., April 8.—Hon. Edmund L. Judson, ex-mayor, died here, aged 60 years. He was a past grandmaster of the grand lodge free and accepted masons in the state of New York, and a sovereign grand inspector general in the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite.

Granite Cutters May Strike.
QUINCY, Mass., April 8.—The granite cutters have demanded nine hours and 31 cents an hour. The granite manufacturers' association will concede the nine hours, but decline to pay more than 28 cents. The workmen will maintain their position.

A Swindling Superintendent.
BROOKLYN, N. Y., April 8.—Theodore Wilcox, superintendent of the Brooklyn hospital, has been sentenced to four years imprisonment for swindling the county by charging for the care of mythical patients.

The Train Knocked Both Out.
NEWBRUN, N. Y., April 8.—While two Italians were settling a quarrel with fists Sunday night on the West Shore railroad track a train struck them, killing one instantly and fatally injuring the other.
